

Looking Up at the Bottom Line: The Struggle for the Living Wage

By Richard R. Troxell

Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 182 pages. Looking Up At The Bottom Line by Richard R. Troxell is an intense personal, political, and educational guide through the last 30 years of homelessness in America, a journey which presents Troxell's workable solution to economic homelessness in America: the Universal Living Wage. Richard R. Troxell has been striving to end homelessness since he first witnessed it as a self-made mortgage foreclosure preventionist in Philadelphia in the 1980s. Today, Richard Troxell works with people with disabilities and homeless citizens of Austin, TX., as the founder and director of Legal Aid for the Homeless. He is also President and Founder of House the Homeless, Inc. (nonprofit-501c3), which he established in 1989. HtH is comprised of homeless and formerly homeless citizens struggling to protect their civil rights and find solutions that will end homelessness in their lifetime. He is the creator of the economic solution to homelessness: The Universal Living Wage. Remarkable! An energizing, engaging book that can lead to the end of homelessness for over 1,000,000 minimum wage workers. This book takes off where all the other minimum wage, living wage books end. Michael Stoops National Civil Rights Organizer for the National...
